DETAILED ACTION

This Office Action is responsive to the applicants' amendment filed on March 30, 2001.

Claim 20 has been amended. Accordingly, claims 1-20 are pending in this application.

Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 1-20 are provisionally rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1 and 22 of copending Application No. 10/807,285. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because claims 1-22 of the copending application "anticipate" application claims 1-20. Accordingly, application claims 1-20 are not patentably distinct from copending application claims 1-22.

Here, copending application claims 1 and 22 requires elements a rotating shaft, first and second eccentric cams, first and second eccentric bushes, a locking pin and a restraining unit fitting over the locking pin to restrain the connecting part while application claims 1, 6 and 20 only requires a locking unit and a restraining unit. Thus it is apparent that the more specific copending application claims 1 and 22 encompass application claims 1, 6 and 20. Note that since Application claims 1, 6 and 20 are anticipated by copending application claims 1 and 22 and since anticipation is the epitome of obviousness, then application claims 1, 6 and 20 are obvious over copending application claims 1 and 22.

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed April 10, 2006 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

With regard to applicants' argument that "any submission of a Terminal Disclaimerfor the provisional rejection" (see Remarks section, page 7). However, the copending application 10/807,285 has been allowed.

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37

Art Unit: 3748

CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
